Location

Situated in the center of the village of Stillington on the main high street. The village is an affluent and pleasant location, within easy reach of the city of York just over 13 miles to the South. It also offers good access to the nearby North Yorkshire Moors area. Both locations experience a high level of visitors, year-round.

Description

A historic end of terrace two storey property with colour washed elevations under a pitched tiled roof. To the rear there are extensive single-storey extensions mainly under pitched tiled roofs, housing storage and the letting cottages.

The ground floor accommodates the main trading spaces, which are served by a central bar server to the public bar and restaurant areas. This is fitted in a traditional country inn style and offers warm and inviting surroundings. To the rear are the ancillary spaces including catering kitchen and customer toilets. The first floor is given over to the 4-bedroom owners accommodation with separate access from the rear.

The extension to the rear includes further ancillary spaces including an upland beer store, cold store, dry store and freezer room. Beyond this are two 1-bedroom and one 2-bedroom letting cottages, all fitted to a very high standard.

The business is situated on a well-sized plot, which comprises ample trading spaces as described and additional outside spaces including approx. 10 car parking spaces and outside seating.

Trade and Business

Our client has operated the business for 29 years and are now looking to retire. They have built a strong reputation for food and enjoy a considerable amount of repeat business and a strong local following.

The cottages to the rear are marketed through bookings.com and enjoy a good level of business, as they offer access to both York and the North Yorkshire Dales National Park.

The current owners have reduced the opening hours in recent years to suit their lifestyle, but still achieve a good level of business. The pub and the cottages are traded as separate businesses and in the last financial year showed average net turnover of just under £8,000 per week on wet and dry sales combined and close to £2,000 per week on accommodation. This equates with a combined net turnover in the region of £9,000 to £10,000 per week for both elements of the business.

There is clearly potential for a new owner with fresh ideas to open longer hours and drive these levels of trade higher. More detailed accounting information will be made available to seriously interested parties after viewing the property.

Fixtures and Fittings

The property is being sold fitted and equipped. Some items of a personal nature will be excluded from the sale. An inventory items included will be provided as part of an agreed sale.

Licences

Please check this with the local licensing authority.

Terms

The property is being offered for sale freehold.

Our client may also consider a lease for the pub on its own, minus the letting rooms at a rent of £45,000 a year and a premium of £70,000 for the goodwill and fixtures and fittings. For an additional rent our client may also consider including the rooms.
